Full Name: Willis Jun Wei Tsai

Expected Graduation Date (Month/Year): May 2021

1. Have you previously rushed Alpha Kappa Psi? (Yes/No)

No

2. What other organizations/extracurriculars are you a part of?

Intramural Basketball, Consulting Club, Investment Club, Business in Asia, Babson Asia Pacific Club, Hong Kong Student Association, Club Basketball

3. How will you contribute to the fraternity? (max 300 words)

With growing interest in Business and Finance, I joined Babson due to my interests in the business world. I believe that some of my skills can contribute to the fraternity in different ways. Firstly, I may be an introverted person at times, however that does not mean I lack passion for things. I am able to use my passion as a motivator to complete task

Another skill I can bring is my organization skill. Being the vice president of the Athletic Council of my high school. I was tasked with planning events throughout the school year and hence have developed a strong skill of organizing event and making sure everything runs smoothly.

Furthermore, being the captain of my high school varsity basketball team, I trained my leadership skill both on the court and off the court. This allowed me to build confidence in speaking and also take charge in leading a team.

Eager to understand the business world further, I strongly believe that joining AKPSI is a step closer in preparing me to pursue my passions in these areas.

4. How do you measure success? (max 300 words)

Some determine success by the number of straight As they get on their reports, or the amount of money they earn each year, more crucially they view success as an individual achievement. However, to me, success is the product of dedication, perseverance and good teamwork combined. For example, playing basketball in highschool, I measure success not by how many games we won, but by whether we have improved together as team in terms of skills and chemistry. This shows that success is not always about individual achievement, but can be viewed as a team one.

Furthermore, in academics I measure success through whether or not I actually understood each topic. This is to show that I really absorbed the knowledge learnt in the classroom, and did not only learn it for the sake of taking a test. Therefore success might not always be about the end result, but can be part of the process as well.

5. What previous experience from your past makes you feel like you relate to AKPsi?

I feel like some of my past experience such as being on a sports team definitely brings the feeling of a brotherhood. AKPsi is a strong community of friends and brothers, and knowing how a community works and the feelings of it definitely allows me to relate to AKPsi. Another experience was living in Hong Kong. As Hong Kong is a very diverse city, it allowed me to interact with people from all over the world. AKPsi has many brothers from different places and cultures, and thus with previous exposure to the international community I am excited to meet even more people from diverse backgrounds that are different from mine.
