Jinna Oh (Seo Yeon Oh)

Expected Graduation Date (Month/Year): May 2020

1. Have you previously rushed Alpha Kappa Psi? No

2. What other organizations/extracurriculars are you a part of?

I am currently working at BEE, Babson Executive Education, as a student operator and accounting assistant. I am also involved in BAPSA (Babson Asian Pacific Student Association) as a peer mentor.

3. How will you contribute to the fraternity? (max 300 words)

I will contribute to the fraternity through genuine connection. Each brother had a unique story to tell whether it be their passions about watches and movies to even brazilian jiu jitsu, and I have a story too. One, I would like to share with people as passionate and willing to listen.

I believe it is the story each person carries in their hearts that truly pushes a person to work hard. Thus, I believe I can contribute by sharing and creating a connection to those who will also share. I will share and dream about a brother's passions to motivate and to succeed.

If given the opportunity, I would love to listen, share, and dream with AKPsi.

4. How do you measure success? (max 300 words)

I measure success by first looking at my own values. I found living in societal standards of success difficult, asking myself to be wealthy, fit, relationship goals, etc. In some sense, many of us strive for that and can accomplish it. However, for me, I found chasing for that definition of success impossible.

The real question is what do I value? After answering that, I was able to define success, and ultimately measure it. Success is continuously improving who you are, how you live, how you service, and how you relate. The key phrase is "continuously improving." I don't strive to be the best, I strive to improve.

In simpler terms, success is "be a good person."

Thus, I understand ultimate success is attainable for me, because personal improvement is endless. But I am happy knowing I push myself to be better than yesterday.

Was I better than yesterday? Sometimes the answer is no, but I continue to work hard.

5. What previous experience from your past makes you feel like you relate to AKPsi?

My memories of playing in an orchestra was an experience that was relatable to AKPsi. The multitude of sounds, textures, melodies one can produce from an instrument is unique and passionate, much like each person in AKPsi. While I was rushing, each person displayed a unique passion, different and driven. And, the individuals of AKPsi together reflected a genuine family. The family truly showed a diversity of distinct qualities, interests, ethnicities, and values. Thus, I found my experience in an orchestra relatable to AKPsi brotherhood, because an orchestra would bring these differences in order to create a harmonious melody. Knowing this, I believe my unique qualities can thrive in the community of AKPsi.
