

James Lee

1. I am a diamond because diamonds are often considered the weakest card but have the most potential if played properly. In games like Chinese Poker, where the diamond is the weakest suit, the diamond three card is granted the possibility of going first. This means that within the first turn one can get rid of anywhere from 1-5 cards from their hand, thus giving the player an edge over the others by starting the game. I believe that I can give my friends and family an edge in life because I will always be there to support them at the very beginning to the very end of any endeavor that they chose to follow.
2. As a brother of Alpha Kappa Psi, I would do anything in my power to give back. I would first go out and learn the basics such as the aspects of a good resume and the methods for acing an interview, and then slowly branch off to creating bigger and better networks. Then I would take what I learned and the new networks and become a resource that any brother can rely on if they need help. I would also bring along with me my past experiences of working in customer service and real estate and hopefully advise anyone who would have questions in those industries.
3. An aspect that makes me unique is that I used to be a professional photographer. This means that I am adept in software such as Adobe Photoshop and Lightroom and can help brothers with designs and professional headshots. I also learned from photography that everything in life has a million angles to it and that anything is possible if you can find the right angle. I believe that I should be extended a bid because I am willing to help out the brothers of Alpha Kappa Psi in any way possible. I also started to love going out on adventures and seeing the beauties of nature because of photography, and I want to bring as many people as I can to these adventures.