VOLUNTARY PROJECTS

- I actively participated in “We are Literacy” Project that helps underprivileged local children in villages to appreciate books and literary materials through reading, writing and storytelling.
- As a corollary to the “We are Literacy” project’s core activities, our project team also raises funds to help self-finance the group’s activities by setting up “pop-up” stalls that sell snacks, cookies and confectionary items our team members made at home.
- In addition, we also helped raise funds for “Sweet Niblets Project”, a bakery and confectionary non-profit making business enterprise established by fellow students. Sweet Niblets sells its products by setting up stalls in school during recess and in school bazaars. The entire proceeds from the sales is used to fund the activities of the school’s student council.
